12th August 1903.

From

V.A.Rajaratna Mudaliar Esquire,

Registrar of the Chief Court of Mysore.

To -

H.V.Nanjundayya Esquire, M.A.M.L.,

Secretary to the Government of Mysore,

General and Revenue Departments.

Sir,

I am directed to submit for the consideration of - Government the following suggestions for modifying the rules relating to casual leave, mainly with a view to remove the hardship now felt by the officers of the Judicial Department in obtaining short periods of leave in case of urgent necessity.

The annual vacations occur at fixed periods in the - year and are ordinarily of no benefit to these officers, when an unforeseen contingency such as their own illness or of the members of their family or any domestic event necessitates - their absence from duty at other parts of the year. There are only two courses open to them, namely, to take casual leave not exceeding five days, subject to the restrictions contained in article 175 of the Mysore Service Regulations or to - take privilege leave on half pay. Judicial officers are subjected to a further disadvantage in that the total period of casual leave admissible is only 10 days in the year whereas - officers of other Departments are entitled to 15 days.

For these reasons, it appears to the Judges that one and the same period viz: 15 days in the year might fairly be fixed for all officers, - thus doing away with the present - rather invidious distinction.

I am also to urge the desirability of removing the - restriction as to combination of casual leave with Sundays and other holidays and of adopting the rules in force in British India as recommended in this office letters Nos: 3146/85 dated 17th November 1897 and 3641/263 dated 28th June 1902. The Madras G.O. dated 1st May 1902 referred to in the second of the above communications has been amplified by a later order. -G.O.No.424 Public dated 2nd May 1903 which runs thus: -

"Casual leave may be combined in any manner with Sundays and other authorized holidays, provided that not more than seven days' casual leave exclusive of such Sundays or holidays shall be taken during one period of absence and provided that no period of absence from duty shall exceed ten days. The aggregate amount of casual leave which any officer of Government may have, during the course of one calendar year, shall not, without the special sanction of Government exceed 15 days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays which under this order may be combined therewith."

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant;

S. Nagalatchmi
